DAVEY, COOPER HURL CHARGES AS DAY NEARS

"Blackmail" and "Corruption" Heard As Gubernatorial Nominees Speak.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 31.—Myers Y. Cooper and Martin L. Davey, Republican and Democratic nominees for governor, respectively, hurled verbal broadsides today as the last days of the pre-election campaigns were drawing to a close.

Cooper charged the state highway department with "political fat-frying," declaring "both contractors and employees of the department are compelled to contribute to the Democratic campaign fund."

Davey renewed his attack on conditions in Cleveland, growing out of the alleged election fraud expose, and again assailed Maurice H. Maschke, Republican national committeeman, as "a father of corrupt politics."

BLACKMAIL CHARGED
The Republican nominee, discussing his state highway department charges, declared "this is nothing short of a species of blackmail and should receive the condemnation of every voter in Ohio."

He then charged officials of the highway department were using employees for the purpose of circulating petitions for new roads. He said the petitions were submitted to Democratic campaign officials and "that the signers receive a letter from Davey stressing his own deep interest in that particular project and pledging his support for a better road program for the state."

Discussing the election fraud situation in Cuyahoga county Davey declared:
"One man alone, Maurice H. Maschke, has been responsible for the election fraud situation in Cuyahoga county."

"MASCHKE IS POWER"
Davey then charged Maschke was "the power back of ballot box stuffing" in Cleveland and said:
"Maschke is the most corrupt political boss in this section of the country. I am going to carry on, so far as it lies in my power, to see that Maschke is driven from control. I consider it a great privilege to drive rottenness from government."

"The business of stealing votes poisons the stream of government at its source. It is brought about through the control of the election board," he said.

FRAUD IS CHARGED IN SALE OF FOXES

Arthur Turnipseed and Salesman Are Indicted In Cleveland Court.

Arthur L. Turnipseed, 48, Columbus, and James A. Ross, 42, Cincinnati, are in Cleveland where they will face charges of obtaining money under false pretenses. This action was brought against them by the Cuyahoga County grand jury in connection with the sale of silver foxes.

Turnipseed is president of the Scioto Valley Silver Fox Ranch, Inc., Chillicothe and Ross is a salesman. The affidavit against the men was filed by Joseph A. Zachery, Cleveland. Zachery is the sole support of his widowed mother and three small brothers and is unable to do work of any kind having suffered an injury to his back some time ago.

Falsely represented that young silver fox pelts sold for a minimum of $500 each and a pair of foxes would have six to 12 pups a year. Ross prevailed upon Zachery to purchase a pair, the affidavit said.

The pelts sell for as low as $75, it is alleged.

LAMBS BRING HIGH PRICE ON MARKET

Ninety-one top lambs were recently shipped from M. L. Sterling through the Pickaway-Livestock Co-operative association to packers. The lambs sold for $14.25 or 25 cents more than the market top.

This shows that when Pickaway co-feeders finish and sell choice stock that the co-operative marketing service rewards to them through their organization a premium in return, it is declared.

Students Held in Thrill Murder

Facing death in electric chair with nonchalance, George Harsh (with automatic in hand) and Richard Gallogly (right), 19 and 18-year-old students at Oglethorpe university, near Atlanta, Ga., confessed to Detective Chief Lamar Poole (left), that they had perpetrated a series of holdups which were climaxed by killing of two men for thrills of the Leopold variety.

THREE TOTS DIE IN FIRE

Burning Cabin Is Pyre For Children In Tragedy Near Logan.

LOGAN, O., Oct. 31.—A triple funeral will be held for the three children who were killed in a fire which destroyed their log-cabin home near Mount Crossing, was destroyed.

The children were Harold, 4; Freda, 3, and Dale, 1. Bingham was working a mile distant from the cabin when the fire broke out. He had left the children in care of his housekeeper, Mrs. Grace Flowers.

Mrs. Flowers was working in a nearby summer kitchen and did not discover the flames, until too late.

The children apparently were playing with matches and accidentally started the blaze.

Mrs. Bingham is serving a sentence in the Marysville reformatory on charges of contributing to their delinquency.

The little bodies were badly charred and may be buried in one casket.

Mrs. Flowers said she made three attempts to enter the flaming cabin in an effort to rescue the children.

MRS. MARY ADAMS' FUNERAL IS FRIDAY

Wife of Washington Township
Farmer Succumbs at Home
Wednesday.

Mrs. Mary Myrtle Adams, wife of David A. Adams, died at 8 a.m. Wednesday from a complication of diseases. She was the daughter of William E. White and Della S. Clendenen and was born May 1, 1878 in Salt Creek, Ind.

She is survived by her husband and four children, Genevieve, Celina, and David, Jr., at home, and Elton, of Athens, O.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p.m. at Stoutsville cemetery. The funeral is in charge of H. E. Defenbaugh.

LOSES FINGER IN MISHAP AT WORK

David Davis, Circleville, suffered a very painful injury at 8 a.m. Wednesday when the forger of his right hand was crushed while using a sledge hammer. Davis is an employee of the Scioto Valley Railway and Power Co. and was working with a group of men on Court-st.

He was holding a steel stake while Will Work was striking it with a 10-pound sledge hammer.

Davis attempted to loosen the stake, telling Work to stop hitting. Evidently Work did not hear him and struck hitting Davis' finger. The finger was so badly crushed it was necessary for Dr. Court-right to amputate it.

Cows, Beware Of Hallowe'en

Witches walked, skeletons shimmied and ghosts gallivanted Tuesday night in Circleville. The streets were full of children and grownups dressed in every imaginable manner and all were tick-tacking.

Persons having any movable articles, such as autos, horses, Jersey cows and the like had better place them under lock and key as all that will move is being moved by the celebrators.

BUSINESS MEN SEE FEATS OF STRENGTH

The Great Mott' and Chicken Dinner Feature of C. of C. Meeting.

Members of the Circleville Chamber of Commerce forgot business worries while they enjoyed a chicken dinner and feats of strength, in the order named, at their weekly meeting Tuesday night in the Masonic Temple.

The largest attendance of the fall season was served the chicken dinner prepared under the direction of George Fitzpatrick, president, and R. L. Brehmer, who was in charge of the ticket sale.

After a truly noble repast, the Chamber of Commerce members relaxed to hear and see "The Great Mott," who has one of the star acts in the C. A. C. circus, tell of and demonstrate his unusual ability.

The relaxation of the business men did not last long, however, when "The Great Mott" proceeded to take a six-foot strip of inch and three-quarters steel and bend it into the shape of a three-leaf clover by using his hands, wrists and jaws. Their involuntary straining and tugging far surpassed that of Mott who also showed how to tear a deck of cards into four decks.

"The Great Mott" declared that anyone could perform similar feats if he used enough determination. He demonstrated to the business men how they may foil "stick-up" men by employing simple wrestling holds.

SEWING MACHINES WILL BE REPAIRED

E. M. Huff, of the agriculture department of Ohio State University, will be in Pickaway county Monday Nov. 5 to assist County Agent F. S. Lee with a sewing machine club. The sewing machines club will be a series of meetings in which worn out, tired and dirty machines will be cleaned, overhauled, and adjusted free of charge.

Women who wish to have their machines repaired can bring them to the following places: Monday, Nov. 5, at the Derby school building, Derby, Ind.; Wednesday, Nov. 7, Commercial Point school building, Commercial Point; Thursday, Nov. 8, Pickaway central school building, Pickaway.

They gave their names as Anna Johnson, Leta Ealy, Herbert Durling and Nelson Cook, of Pickaway.

AL IS SERIOUS AS END NEARS

Grim Seriousness Now Marks
Denominator of Democratic Candidate.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Gov. Alfred E. Smith set out today on the concluding drive of his presidential campaign. He laid aside his brown derby, denied himself to callers and finished the first of the final series of campaign speeches which is to be delivered in Newark, N. J., tonight from the same platform where his Republican opponent, Herbert Hoover, spoke three weeks ago.

A change appeared to have come over the Democratic nominee since his return from his Baltimore trip. There was a grim seriousness in his mien, a disinclination to waste one of these final precious moments with one of those familiar epigrams which characterize his intimate conversation. He was all business.

He is closing his national campaign according to the precise custom of his gubernatorial races. On Friday night before election he has always spoken at Brooklyn Academy of Music. The Saturday nights he has always had a final big rally in Madison Square Garden.

On Monday nights, election eve, he has always left his hotel home and gone down into Oliver street, on the east side, where he was born, to mingle with his old friends and swap stories about his chances.

EGG STAINS NOW HELD AS EVIDENCE

Anyone appearing on the streets Wednesday morning with a slight suggestion of an egg for even just on vest or chin, was subject to questioning glances from county and city officers of the law. For it was Tuesday night that six cases of eggs were stolen from the Shaw-Pope Co. in Williamsport.

One hundred and eighty dozens of eggs are an awful heavy cargo in this day of detours and traffic mishaps, and the thieves must have been pretty hard on for something to carry away.

"Monday night a call was made on the farm of H. W. Gendall near Williamsport, and residents in that vicinity are glad to have a hot welcome for intruders."

QUARTET FAILS TO APPEAR FOR TRIAL

The four persons arrested Monday night on Saturday charges at the home of Lida Bird, who has a rooming house on E. Ohio-st., failed to appear for trial Tuesday night, forfeiting their bonds.

The boys had placed $35 each for their appearance, while the girls gave $5 bonds each.

They gave their names as Anna Johnson, Leta Ealy, Herbert Durling and Nelson Cook, of Pickaway.

Burns Self to Test Her Love, Girl Says

Physic Amour With Policeman
Claimed By Teacher,
Found in Furnace.

LAKE FOREST, Ill., Oct. 31.—As a test of her love for a married man, father of five children, Miss Elfrida Knaak, 29-year-old Sunday School teacher, burned herself in the furnace of the Lake Bluff police station, she said in the hospital here today.

Miss Knaak is believed to be dying as a result of the burns. Should she live she would be a hopeless cripple.

Under the heading of Brahminism in a copy of the Encyclopedia, which Miss Knaak had been selling for a Chicago publishing house, authorities looked for the paragraph which may have sent her off on the weird experiment. On the basis of her story they abandoned the first theory of attempted murder and turned instead of literature in which Miss Knaak may have had "fire tests" among ancient religious zealots.

PROOF OF LOVE
"To prove my love for him" was the next reason Miss Knaak gave for the torture to which she had subjected herself.

The man she says was her sweetheart, Charles W. Hitchcock, 52, night policeman at Lake Bluff. He is the father of five children and has been married about 18 years.

"Poor girl, if she had a crush on me I didn't know it," Hitchcock said.

Miss Knaak was found yesterday morning in the furnace room of the Lake Bluff police station, her arms and legs burned almost to the bone.

She was crumpled up at the base of the furnace, naked, and was not able to talk.

TELLS HER STORY
She was removed to a Lake Forest hospital. It was not until early today that her story was drawn from her.

Her first words were, "Hitchcock, why didn't you come?" "Who did this?" the doctor asked while State's Attorney A. V. Smith of Lake county bent forward to listen.

"I did it myself, for faith, for purity," she said through her bandages.

"He did not keep an appointment with me Monday night" (She wasn't aware Hitchcock was in bed with a broken leg).

Then bit by bit this story was obtained from her:

"For four years I have known Hitchcock and have studied in his school of elocution."

"A few months ago I got to know him spiritually—understand this was no material love affair. I have understood him through my knowledge of advanced psychology."

"I removed my clothing. I burned them and then myself."

"I survived and I proved my faith and I'll live. There was no suicide in it."

TALE IS DOUBTED
Thus her amazing tale of love came to an end.

But survival for this daughter of the late Dr. Theodore K. Knaak, wealthy Deerfield physician, would be a sorry affair at best. Her doctors say there is no hope of saving her without the amputation of both arms and one foot. Her condition now is too weak for an operation.

Both State's Attorney Smith and Dr. James Rüssinger, her physician, were loath to believe Miss Knaak's story.

Dr. Rüssinger pointed out that to believe the story one must believe that she placed one foot in the furnace, held it there in the flames for some time, removed it and then placed the other one in. "Then she would have had to thrust in her head and arms and held them there under what would have been the most intense pain."

"It does not seem possible that anyone, even in a trance, could have stood it. Miss Knaak's reaction would have made her draw back in spite of herself," Dr. Rüssinger said.

Miss Knaak, however, insisted she was telling the truth.

Hitchcock denied any kind of a love affair with Miss Knaak, either spiritual or material.

SEEK FREE FLOPS
With the coming of frosty weather many hoboes are coming to Circleville's free hotel in the basement of the city building.

Chief Warner reports five and six register nightly. Few, however, have left in taxis, as did a recent lodger at the city prison building.

LANSING DIES AS VICTIM OF WEAK HEART

Famous Secretary of State
During War Succumbs at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The scrolls of dead among the world's wartime statesmen bore today a new name, that of Robert Lansing.

President Wilson's secretary of state died rather suddenly late yesterday of heart trouble which attacked him only on Oct. 5. Today men high in public life in this and other lands paid tribute to Lansing who directed much of the diplomatic destinies of this country in the days from 1913, to 1920 and sat with Clemenceau, Lloyd George, Orlando, Henry White, Gen. Bliss and others in the peace councils of Paris.

President Coolidge, sending condolences to Mrs. Lansing spoke of the famous international lawyer as one who had done a work in war and peace that would "assure him a place in history."

RECALLS NOTE WRITING
Lansing's death brought memories of his role in the long campaign of note writing which Germany failed to heed and which finally ended in a breach that sent the U. S. into war on the side of the Allies. Men who followed the Wilson regime intimately recalled the coolness and "fin de siècle" between Wilson and Lansing, and there came to light today hitherto unrevealed touches from the drama in which Wilson and Lansing played so big a role.

The writer sat in Lansing's office in the state department the day the sharp warning note to Germany was first sent. Germany had declared a "barred zone" around the British Isles and had advised this country against sending ships into that area.

It was in the eyes of the American government a piece of effrontery, for American ships had the right to travel where they chose since we were neutral.

ACT OF KINDNESS
Lansing was not talking for publication, but he told this writer then.

"What we have just done was the kindest thing we could do to Germany."

Many times in the months after that, Lansing's observations came sharply to mind. Germany disregarded this counsel, sent in "kindness" and finally, in Nov. 1918, capitulated, thoroughly defeated.

The outcome of the war might have been vastly different if Germany had hearkened to the Lansing warning or to his subsequent notes.

Coupled with this hitherto unrevealed incident, there came to light today from one of the participants in the great drama a new version of why Lansing and Wilson broke.

During Wilson's illness, Lansing virtually took over the reins of government and the popular conception of their breach was that Wilson was stressed at Lansing's summoning a cabinet meeting and calling before it Dr. Cary Grayson, the president's physician (Turn to page five, please)

CIGARET SMOKING CALLED 'INFERNAL'

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 31.—Cigarette smoking is an "infernal" criminal practice, and the time is now ripe to take that evil Dr. A. J. G. Johnson, pastor of the Temple Baptist church told the 50th anniversary convention of the First Michigan I. O. O. F. W. C. T. U. "Cigarettes," Dr. Johnson said, is poisoning races of people yet unborn, by spreading the habit among women. It must be next to go.

Dr. Johnson also urged that every evangelical church, on the day before election hold a prayer meeting and offer prayers for the defeat of the candidate of lawlessness.

STOWAWAY TO GET WELCOME

Germany Prepares Reception
For Young American On Board Graf.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, GERMANY, Oct. 31.—An American boy, embodying the spirit of adventure that is in the day dreams of every lad in the land, held a high place in the hearts of the German people, today—a people whose hearts were already bursting with thanksgiving and pride with the return of the Graf Zeppelin on her round trip to America.

Clarence Terhune, 19, seemed certain to receive the warmest reception ever accorded a Stowaway.

The daring of the boy's feat thrilled the Germans and gave them a good chuckle.

Clarence, peeling potatoes and doing odd tasks to earn his keep aboard the Graf was probably largely unaware of what was in store for him on his arrival.

Fines for persons who enter Germany without passport range from 20 to 10,000 marks.

Chief of Police Quintenz, at Friedrichshafen, was in communication with the American consul to hasten amicable settlement of Terhune's status. He said the fine probably would be only a technical one in this case, amounting to the minimum—20 marks.

American Consul Stuttgart hurried here to make arrangements for a passport for Terhune. He said he would take charge of Clarence's personal affairs, if the youth so desired.

All that seemed left to make Clarence's entry into Germany a triumph was a recommendation from the Zeppelin's officers attesting to his good behavior.

CRIMINAL TRIALS
SET FOR HEARING

Judge Clarence Curtin Tuesday assigned the following dates of criminal cases for the October term of court. They are:

State of Ohio against Raymond Gray, failure to provide for an illegitimate child, Nov. 12; Allen Floyd, stealing a motor vehicle, Nov. 14; C. R. Boggs, grand larceny, Nov. 19; Clark Grabbill, receiving and concealing stolen property, Nov. 21; William Fowler, cutting with intent to wound, Nov. 26 and Anna Thomas, failure to provide for an illegitimate child, Dec. 5.

FUNERAL IS HELD

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday for Mrs. Goldie Spackman of Revillon, whose death resulted Monday from the explosion of a can of kerosene. The services were held at the Mt. DIRIGIBLE SPEEDING FRENCH

Giant Craft Hits
Lines After Sailing
Bay of Biscay

(By United Press)

The Graf Zeppelin, coast of Europe today, over the October 31st North Atlantic, and in to break all speed records dirigible crossing of the Atlantic. At 5:50 a.m. EST, 52 miles she left Lakenhurst, first ocean passenger of sighted off the bay of her return journey to shafen, Germany.

At that hour, the Graf was reported by the British Boulderpool in lat. north, longitude 11.1 position given is off Biscay, approximately from the northwestern Spain.

MAKING FAST
When she was sighted S. S. Boulderpool, the dirigible had covered 3,200 miles in 52 hours. She prospects of reaching shafen in 4 to 5 days.

Her trip westward from richshafen to Lakenhurst is than 111 hours. The eastward was 75 hours in the British R-34 in 1919 to York to Scotland. Her was 1,000 miles less, the being covered by the Graf.

The R-34 took 100 make the westbound trip, a distance of 3,270 miles.

The Los Angeles made the bound trip in 1924 in 81 minutes. She flew 4,010 miles.

HEADING FOR
It was assumed that the Graf would be making the mouth of the Rhine, where it would be sighted yesterday he would be seen across France for Friedrichshafen, about 950 miles from shafen. At a 5:50 a.m. position. At a 5:50 a.m. position, which was the dirigible's average across ocean, she should reach her port on about 14 hours, or 8 p.m. EST.

Reports from ships at sea from the dirigible herself indicated the airship had encountered winds of gale force almost away across the Atlantic. Winds blew today off the coast of Ireland and along the approximate course of the dirigible.

MANY PRESENT AT POULTRY MEETING

Approximately 80 persons attended the poultry meeting at the Farm Bureau home today to study methods of increasing their flocks.

G. S. Vickers, field secretary of the Ohio Poultry Improvement association, gave a lecture on main points of flock management including feeding, care, housing and disease control, which is most economical to farm owners. There was a great deal of interest and a number of practical questions were asked speaker concerning flocks.

This is one of the meetings planned by the farm bureau to assist poultrymen in improving the flocks.

Egg calendars are being circulated to improve the poultry program.

TAKES SCHOOL POST

Mrs. Christian Schwarz, of Pinckney-st., has been hired by the school board of Pickaway county to teach in the third grade of the Pickaway-two school.

The relaxation of the business men did not last long, however, when "The Great Mott" proceeded to take a six-foot strip of inch and three-quarters steel and bend it into the shape of a three-leaf clover by using his hands, wrists and jaws. Their involuntary straining and tugging far surpassed that of Mott, who also showed how to tear a deck of cards into four decks.

"The Great Mott" declared that anyone could perform similar feats if he used enough determination. He demonstrated to the business men how they may foil "stick-up" men by employing simple wrestling holds.

SEWING MACHINES WILL BE REPAIRED

E. M. Huff, of the agriculture engineering department of Ohio State University, will be in Pickaway-co Monday, Nov. 5 to assist County Agent H. S. Lewis with a sewing machine clinic. The sewing machine clinic will be a series of meetings in which worn out, tired and dirty machines will be cleaned, overhauled, and adjusted free of charge.

Women who wish to have their machine repaired can bring them to the following clinics: Monday, Nov. 5, at the Derby school building, Derby-twp; Wednesday, Nov. 7, Commercial Point school, Scioto-twp; Thursday, Nov. 8, Pickaway-twp centralized school. The meetings will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

AL IS SERIOUS AS END NEARS

Grim Seriousness Now Marks
Demeanor of Democratic Candidate.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31—Gov. Alfred E. Smith set out today on the concluding drive of his presidential campaign. He laid aside his brown derby, denied himself to callers and finished the first of the final series of campaign speeches which is to be delivered in Newark, N. J., tonight from the same platform where his Republican opponent, Herbert Hoover, spoke three weeks ago.

A change appeared to have come over the Democratic nominee since his return from his Baltimore trip. There was a grim seriousness in his mien, a disinclination to waste one of these final precious moments with one of those familiar epigrams which characterize his intimate conversation. He was all business.

He is closing his national campaign according to the precise custom of his gubernatorial races. On Friday night before election he has always spoken at Brooklyn Academy of Music, the Saturday nights he has always had a final rally in Madison Square Garden. On Monday nights, election eve, he has always left his hotel home and gone down into Oliver street, on the east side, where he was born, to mingle with his old friends and swap stories about his chances.

The relaxation of the business men did not last long, however, when "The Great Mott" proceeded to take a six-foot strip of inch and three-quarters steel and bend it into the shape of a three-leaf clover by using his hands, wrists and jaws. Their involuntary straining and tugging far surpassed that of Mott, who also showed how to tear a deck of cards into four decks.

EGG STAINS NOW HELD AS EVIDENCE

Anyone appearing on the streets Wednesday morning with a slight suggestion of an egg for breakfast, on vest or chin, was subject to questioning glances from county and city officers of the law. For it was Tuesday night that six cases of eggs were stolen from the Shaw Produce Co. in Williamsport. One hundred and eighty dozens of eggs are an awful risky cargo in this day of detours and traffic mishaps, and the thieves must have been pretty hard up for something to carry away.

Monday night a calf was stolen from the farm of H. W. Campbell near Williamsport, and residents in that vicinity are planning a hot welcome for intruders.

The four persons arrested Monday night on statutory charges at the home of Lida Bird, who has a rooming house on E. Ohio-st., failed to appear for trial Tuesday night, forfeiting their bonds.

The boys had placed $35 each for their appearance while the girls gave $5 bonds each.

They gave their names as: Annie Johnson, Letta Ealy; Herbert Dunlap and Melvin Cockrel, of Chillicothe.

Burns Self to Test Her Love, Girl Says

Physic Amour With Policeman
Claimed By Teacher,
Found in Furnace.

LAKE FOREST, Ill., Oct. 31—As a test of her love for a married man, father of five children, Miss Elfrida Knaak, 29-year-old Sunday School teacher, burned herself in the furnace of the Lake Bluff police station, she said in the hospital here today.

Miss Knaak is believed to be dying as a result of the burns. Should she live she would be a hopeless cripple.

Under the heading of Brahminism in a copy of the Encyclopedia, which Miss Knaak had been selling for a Chicago publishing house, authorities looked for the paragraph which may have sent her off on the weird experiment. On the basis of her story they abandoned the first theory of attempted murder and turned instead of literature in which Miss Knaak may have head of "fire tests" among ancient religious zealots.

"To prove my love for him" was the next reason Miss Knaak gave for the torture to which she had subjected herself.

The man she says was her sweetheart is Charles W. Hitchcock, 52, night policeman at Lake Bluff. He is the father of five children and has been married about 18 years.

"Poor girl, if she had a crush on me I didn't know it," Hitchcock said.

Miss Knaak was found yesterday morning in the furnace room of the Lake Bluff police station, her arms and legs burned almost to the bone.

She was crumpled up at the base of the furnace, naked, and was not able to talk.

She was removed to a Lake Forest hospital. It was not until early today that the story was drawn from her.

Her first words were, "Hitchcock, oh Hitch, why didn't you come?" "who did this?" the doctor asked while State's Attorney A. V. Smith of Lake county bent forward to listen.

"I did it myself, for faith, for purity," she said through her bandages.

"He did not keep an appointment with me Monday night." (She wasn't aware Hitchcock was in bed with a broken leg.)

Then bit by bit this story was obtained from her:

"For four years I have known Hitchcock and have studied in his school of elocution.

"A few months ago I got to know him spiritually—understand this was no material love affair. I have understood him through my knowledge of advanced psychology."

"I removed my clothing. I burned them and then myself."

"I survived and I proved my faith and I'll live. There was no suicide in it."

TALE IS DOUBTED
Thus her amazing tale of love came to an end.

But survival for this daughter of the late Dr. Theodore K. Knaak, wealthy Deerfield physician, would be a sorry affair at best. Her doctors say there is no hope of saving her without the amputation of both arms and one foot. Her condition now is too weak for an operation.

Both States Attorney Smith and Dr. James Rissinger, her physician, were loath to believe Miss Knaak's story.

Dr. Rissinger pointed out that to believe the story one must believe that she placed one foot in the furnace, held it there in the flames for some time, removed it and then placed the other one in.

"Then she would have had to thrust in her head and arms and held them there under what would have been the most intense pain."

"It does not seem possible that anyone, even in a trance, could have stood it. Muscular reaction would have made her draw back in spite of herself," Dr. Rissinger said.

Miss Knaak, however, insisted she was telling the truth.

Hitchcock, denied any kind of a love affair with Miss Knaak, either spiritual or material.

LANSING DIES AS VICTIM OF WEAK HEART

Famous Secretary of State
During War Succumbs at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31—The scrolls of dead among the world's wartime statesmen bore today a new name, that of Robert Lansing.

President Wilson's secretary of state died rather suddenly late yesterday of heart trouble which attacked him only on Oct. 5. Today men high in public life in this and other lands paid tribute to Lansing who directed much of the diplomatic destinies of this country in the days from 1915, to 1920 and sat with Clemenceau, Lloyd George, Orlando, Henry White, Gen. Bliss and others in the peace councils of Paris.

President Coolidge, sending condolences to Mrs. Lansing spoke of the famous international lawyer as one who had done a work in war and peace that would "assure him a place in history."

RECALLS NOTE WRITING
Lansing's death brought memories of his role in the long campaign of note writing which Germany failed to heed and which finally ended in a breach that sent the U. S. into war on the side of the Allies.

Men who followed the Wilson regime intimately recalled the coolness and final break between Wilson and Lansing, and there came to light today hitherto unrevealed touches from the drama in which Wilson and Lansing played so big a role.

The writer sat in Lansing's office in the state department the day the secretary sent to Germany his first sharp warning note. Germany had declared a "barred zone" around the British Isles and had advised this country against sending ships into that area.

It was in the eyes of the American government a piece of effrontery, for American ships had the right to travel where they chose since we were neutral.

ACT OF KINDNESS
Lansing was not talking for publication, but he told this writer then,

"What we have just done was the kindest thing we could do to Germany."

Many times in the months after that, Lansing's observations came sharply to mind, sent in "kindness," and finally in Nov. 1918, capitulated, thoroughly defeated. The outcome of the war might have been vastly different if Germany had hearkened to the Lansing warning or to his subsequent notes.

Coupled with this hitherto unrevealed incident, there came to light today from one of the participants in the great drama a new version of why Lansing and Wilson broke.

During Wilson's illness, Lansing virtually took over the reins of government, and the popular conception of their breach was that Wilson was incensed at Lansing's summoning a cabinet meeting and calling before it Dr. Cary Grayson, the president's physician. (Turn to page five, please)

CIGARET SMOKING CALLED 'INFERNAL'

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 31—Cigaret smoking is an "infernal, criminal practice," and the time is now ripe to attack that evil, Dr. Albert G. Johnson, pastor of the Temple Baptist church told the 50th anniversary convention of the First Michigan District W.C.T.U. "Cigarets," Dr. Johnson said, "is poisoning races of people yet unborn, by spreading the habit among women. It must be next to go."

Dr. Johnson also urged that every evangelical church, on the day before election hold a prayer meeting and offer prayers for the "defeat of the candidate of lawlessness." He mentioned no candidate's name.

STOWAWAY TO GET WELCOME

Germany Prepares Reception
For Young American On Board Graf.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, GERMANY, Oct. 31—An American boy, embodying the spirit of adventure that is in the day dreams of every lad in the land, held a high place in the hearts of the German people, today—a people whose hearts were already bursting with thanksgiving and pride with the return of the Graf Zeppelin on her round trip to America.

Clarence Terhune, 19, seemed certain to receive the warmest reception ever accorded a Stowaway.

The daring of the boy's feat thrilled the Germans and gave them a good chuckle.

Clarence, peeling potatoes and doing odd tasks to earn his keep aboard the Graf was probably largely unaware of what was in store for him on his arrival.

Fines for persons who enter Germany without passport range from 20 to 10,000 marks.

Chief of Police Quintenz, at Friedrichshafen, was in communication with the American consul to hasten amicable settlement of Terhune's status. He said the fine probably would be only a technical one in this case, amounting to the minimum—20 marks.

American Consul Stuttgart hurried here to make arrangements for a passport for Terhune. He said he would take charge of Clarence's personal affairs, if the youth so desired.

All that seemed left to make Clarence's entry into Germany triumph was a recommendation from the Zeppelin's officers attesting to his good behavior.

CRIMINAL TRIALS SET FOR HEARING

Judge Clarence Curtin Tuesday assigned the following dates of criminal cases for the October term of court. They are:

State of Ohio against Raymond Gray, failure to provide for an illegitimate child, Nov. 12; Allen Floyd, stealing a motor vehicle, Nov. 14; C. R. Boggs, grand larceny, Nov. 19; Clark Grabill, receiving and concealing stolen property, Nov. 21; William Fowler, cutting with intent to wound, Nov. 26 and Aria Thomas, failure to provide for an illegitimate child, Dec. 3.

FUNERAL IS HELD

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday for Mrs. Goldie Speakman, of Royalton, whose death resulted Monday from the explosion of a can of kerosene. The services were held at the Mt. Carmel Reformed church in Clearport. Interment was made in the Clearport cemetery. The services were in charge of H. E. Defenbaugh.

DIRIGIBLE SPEEDING FRENCH

Giant Craft Hits European
Lines After Sailing
Bay of Biscay

(By United Press)

The Graf Zeppelin, coast of Europe today, over the October storm, North Atlantic, and in a bid to break all speed records, dirigible crossing of the ocean. At 5:50 a.m. EST, 52 hours after she left Lakehurst, the first ocean passenger dirigible sighted off the bay of Biscay, her return journey to Friedrichshafen, Germany.

At that hour, the Graf was reported by the Britisher Boulderpool in latitude north, longitude 11.1. Position given is off Biscay, approximately 80 miles from the northwestern Spain.

MAKING FAST TIME
When she was sighted, S. S. Boulderpool, the Graf had covered 3,200 miles more in 52 hours. She had prospects of reaching Friedrichshafen in a total of about 80 hours. Her trip westward from Lakehurst took more than 111 hours. The best eastward was 75 hours made the British R-34 in 1919 from New York to Scotland. Her distance was 1,000 miles less than being covered by the Graf Zeppelin. The R-34 took 108 hours to make the westbound trip, a distance of 3,270 miles.

The Los Angeles made the westbound trip in 1924 in 81 hours. She flew 4,010 miles. HEADING FOR RIVER
It was assumed that Commander Hugo Eckener was making the mouth of the Rhine, Ford just, as he had yesterday he would do, and head across France for Friedrichshafen, about 950 miles from 5:50 a.m. position. At a speed of 65 miles an hour, which was the dirigible's average across ocean, she should reach her port in about 14 hours, or at 8 p.m. EST.

Reports from ships at sea from the dirigible herself indicated the airships had encountered winds of gale force almost all way across the Atlantic, still winds blew today off the coast of Ireland and along the approximate course of the dirigible.

MANY PRESENT AT POULTRY MEETING

Approximately 80 persons attended the poultry meeting held at the Farm Bureau home today to study methods of increasing their flocks.

G. S. Vickers, field secretary of the Ohio Poultry Improvement association, gave a lecture on main points of flock management including feeding, care, housing and disease control, which is most economical to farm owners. There was a great deal of interest and a number of practical questions were asked of speaker concerning flocks.

This is one of the meetings planned by the farm bureau to assist poultrymen in improving their flocks.

Egg calendars are being circulated to improve the poultry program.

TAKES SCHOOL POST

Mrs. Christian Schwarz, of Pinckney-st., has been hired by the school board of Pickaway-twp to teach in the third grade of the Pickaway-twp school. Mrs. Schwarz will fill the vacancy caused by the resignation recently of Miss Eleanor Pierce who leaves to teach in the schools of Grandview in Columbus. Miss Pierce was released by the board with the understanding that she should not leave until a teacher had been found to take her place. Mrs. Schwarz will assume her duties Monday morning.

HAVE FINAL MEET

The Democrat executive and central committee and all county candidates held a final joint meeting at their headquarters on W. Main-st Tuesday evening. The meeting was largely attended by both committeemen and candidates, there being about 50 present.

Big Ten and Eastern Football On Exhibit

CLASHES SATURDAY TO BE BIG TEST

Princeton Expected To Turn Strong Team Against Scarlet and Gray.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The first test of this season for a comparison of football as played in the east by the Big Ten will be scheduled Saturday by the Princeton-Ohio State game, at Columbus, Ohio, at the Pennsylvania-Chicago game at Chicago, Nov. 5.

Big Ten teams demonstrated superiority over eastern Eleven teams by winning three out of five intersectional games. Princeton beat Ohio State, 20 to 0, and Harvard defeated Indiana, 10 to 0, for the east's two victories, both games being played in the east.

Purdue invaded Cambridge and defeated Harvard, 10 to 0. Chicago defeated Pennsylvania, 13 to 0, at Chicago and Michigan defeated the Navy, 27 to 12, in the west.

Four games are scheduled between Eastern and Big Ten teams this season. Besides the Princeton-Ohio State and Penn-Chicago games, Navy will meet Michigan at Baltimore Nov. 10, and Dartmouth will play Northwestern at Chicago Nov. 24.

The general impression among football men familiar with eastern and mid-western play is that the western variety is a trifle better.

Outside of the Army, New York University and perhaps one or two other teams the east has no really great football machines this season.

The Big Ten has Iowa, Ohio State, Illinois, Minnesota and Wisconsin, apparently better than the east's five best teams, excepting West Point.

The army might beat any of the Big Ten teams, but the Army is quite possibly capable of beating any football team in captivity this season.

Despite the fact that Virginia fielded Princeton to a scoreless tie and Cornell almost did the same thing, the Tigers have the potential strength to develop into one of the east's best teams.

HERE'S CIGAR VALUE FOR YOU

Never Before Has a Nickel Bought Such a Cigar!

Talk about the past and present purchasing power of a nickel, here's a buy that upsets all previous standards: Havana Ribbon cigar. Thirty years on the market! Produced by the millions today! That and long-studied cigar-making have put value into Havana Ribbon such as you've never before known in a five-cent cigar. And there's something else: Ripe tobacco. Imagine what a fine, mild, fragrant smoke that means! No bitter under-ripe top leaves of the tobacco plant. No flat-tasting over-ripe bottom leaves. Pure flavored Ripe middle leaves only. Long filler—that won't come out in your mouth—same as used in higher-priced cigars. . . . You just can't beat it for the money!

Don't dally—slip one nickel over the counter and set yourself for a smoke you'll want again and again. Better still, buy a ready-filled Practical Pocket Package of five cigars and be prepared for the long run that's sure to come.

formed a mediocre October football team into an unbeatable November one to discount the strength of Princeton until the Tigers hit a big game.

Mike Miles, Trux Bennett and Ed Wittmer will all return to the Princeton backfield against Ohio State this week giving the Tigers full strength for the first time since the opening game.

Miles was one of the best defensive backs of last season and Wittmer one of the best line plungers. Bennett, a shifty broken field runner, flashed some of the best running of the year against Lehigh and has been saved especially for Ohio State.

Unfortunately, the weakness of Coach Staggs' eleven this season will not permit a true test of Big Ten strength in the Penn-Chicago clash. Penn is none too strong this year but should trim the woefully weak Chicago eleven.

NEW BOXING CLUB IS FORMED HERE

First Fistic Show Will Be Staged Nov. 8 At Memorial Hall.

A new organization to promote boxing and to stage boxing bouts in Circleville has been formed and will be known as the Rainbow Athletic club.

On Thursday night, Nov. 8, this club will stage the first fistic show which has been presented here for some time.

The management of the club promises some real action and entertainment for the winter season as it proposes to place boxing on a basis where it can be enjoyed by all.

The first show at Memorial hall and if all goes well they will be in at 8 p. m. Nov. 8, will present three four round matches. The hall is an ideal place to hold a boxing show because every member of a capacity crowd can see the stage from every seat. The ring will be built on the stage. Prices will be popular and the club insists on an orderly crowd. An attractive card is being completed and will be announced later.

SCRIMMAGE MENU FOR TIGER SQUAD

Coach Guthrie has given the Tigers a tough round of scrimmage every night this week and he says its going to continue this prescription until Thursday. The gridders have been exchanging hard knocks with the Merchant players, with the second team filling the vacant positions on the latter's line.

The boys are improving each day and if all goes well they will be in fine shape for the encounter with Greenfield, Friday. Grant and Terry, the two colorful oval toters, will be the main-springs of the team this week. Davis will probably be out of the game due to his injured nose which he received last Friday while playing Clarksburg.

HALLOWEEN THRILLS AT BIG KINGSTON PARTY

Miss Flossie Harpster and Miss Mary Karshner delightfully entertained a number of their friends in a most pleasing manner Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Harpster in Kingston.

The house was artistically arranged in colorful decorations of orange and black. A few streamers hanging in graceful festoons connected the lights which were covered with a soft fringe of orange and black crepe paper. The doorway to the dining room was covered with strips of orange and black tiled crepe paper and at one side stood a tall ghost in its flowing shroud of white.

The evening was spent in music, games, contests and weird and shivering stunts.

Prizes were awarded to Miss Leoca Hoy, blindfolded for drawing the best cat. Mr. Russel Bowsher for drawing the best witch and broom. To the couple, Mr. Charles Hartsough and Miss Helen Anderson for arranging the Halloween Greeting Puzzle, and Mr. Joseph Porter and Miss Mildred Bowsher for untying the Knots of Fate the quickest.

At 10:30 the guests were invited to the dining room where unexpected thrills and chills assailed the guests when they first beheld grinning ghosts waiting to join them at supper.

Those present to enjoy the rollicking evening were Messrs. Earl DeLong, Charles Hartsough, Howard Dressbach, Damon Hilliards, Pearl Hartsough, Joseph Porter, Russel Bowsher, Ira Valentine and Edward Owens and Miss Bertha Hartsough, Miss Grace Jacobs, Miss Elizabeth Valentine, Miss Helen Anderson, Miss Nellie Rhine, Miss Annie Hartsough, Miss Bernice Drum, Miss Mildred Bowsher, Miss Leoca Hoy, Miss Dorothy Anderson, Miss Pauline Bowsher, Miss Winifred Drum and the hostesses, Miss Karshner and Miss Harpster.

At a late hour the guests bade their hosts farewell expressing their appreciation for the delightful evening.

The Stage Mirrors the Mode of the Longer Skirt

—NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (U.P.)—

The opening of the theater season in New York, always a time of speculation and interest to literary and social circles, provides for the fashion observer extra stimulation in the styles projected by stage celebrities, and the confirmation of silhouette trends, already launched, by smart women on both sides of the footlights.

The longer skirt has been applauded on its effective entrance in most of the smart plays. The swathed hipline, from which draperies float or dip in the attenuated line, makes for grace and has won many of the audience prejudiced against longer skirts.

Incidentally a survey of evening fashions among smart audiences indicates an approval of white satin among women who are intent on emphasizing their summer tan. A particularly effective gown in white failed of the period genre was noted recently, completed with long cape wrap of the same fabric with high wired standing collar.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY AT C. A. C. CIRCUS

Special Program Arranged At Conclusion of Tonight's Performance.

At the conclusion of Wednesday night's performance a big Hallowe'en party will be staged at the C. A. C. Gym in connection with the circus. There will be various prizes offered in competitive competition among the various classes for most comic costumes, for best tango dancers in the dancing contest, and in the Black Bottom and Charleston contests. There will be a door prize awarded to some lucky patron as an attendance prize.

This should be a gala affair as this being Hallowe'en it is the time for merry making both for the young and the old alike. Everybody should attend this circus being sponsored by the C. A. C. as it is a most enjoyable evening's entertainment. As a feature added attraction will be the riding academy demonstration of how acrobats and bare-back riders are trained. There will be an invitation extended to the youngsters in the audience to experience the thrills astride a galloping steed. This is a well trained horse and with this safety device used in training, there will be

ANOTHER VICTORY! NEW HEALTH COMES THROUGH KONJOLA

Stomach Trouble And Kidney Pains Are Speedily Ended By This New Medicine.

MRS. MARY GOODING.

New health, relief from pain are in reach of all who suffer, for Konjola is restoring thousands of men and women to the health they had lost, and for which they sought long in vain.

Konjola works quickly, surely, permanently, going instantly to the afflicted organs and bringing speedy benefits. Interesting to all who are afflicted is the experience of Mrs. Mary Gooding, Stelton Road, Xenia, Ohio, who says:

"So ill was I with stomach and kidney troubles that at times I wished something would happen to end it all. My stomach was so bad that after every meal gas would almost choke me, and a sour, acid, burning liquid leaped into my throat and mouth. My kidneys caused me intense suffering and great inconvenience at night. I was run down, losing sleep and failing to get proper nutrition. Everything I tried for relief had failed and I turned to Konjola as the last resort. Benefit came with the first bottle, and a full treatment of six bottles has made me well again. Gone are my ailments, and their pains and symptoms. Strength and weight are returning, and life is again a joy, thanks to this wonder-remedy, Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Circleville at Mykrantz Pharmacy and by all the leading druggists in every town throughout this entire section.—Adv.

Every purchaser
of a new Ford
is entitled to Free
Inspection Service
for the first 1500 miles

THE modern automobile is a finely built piece of machinery and it will stand a lot of abuse. Considering the work it does, it gives surprisingly little trouble. But there isn't a car made that will not run better and longer if given proper care.

The first few hundred miles are especially important because that is when the mechanism of your car is being broken in. Proper attention during this period will lengthen its life and prevent unnecessary trouble later on.

We are particularly interested in this matter because we believe it is our duty not only to make a good automobile, but to help the owner get the greatest possible use over the longest period of time at a minimum of trouble and expense.

With this in view, the entire Ford dealer organization has been specially trained and equipped to service the new Model A car.

Furthermore, we have instructed every Ford dealer to give the following Free Inspection at 500, 1000 and 1500 miles:

- Check battery
- Check generator charging rate
- Check distributor adjustment
- Check carburetor adjustment
- Check lights
- Check brakes
- Check shock absorber adjustment
- Check tire inflation
- Check steering gear
- Change engine oil
- Lubricate chassis

No charge is made for labor or materials incidental to this service, except, of course, where repairs are necessary through accident, misuse or neglect. The only charge is for new oil.

See your Ford dealer, therefore, and get this Free Inspection of your new car at 500, 1000 and 1500 miles. Find out, too, how little it will cost to have your car given a thorough going-over at regular periods thereafter.

A periodic checking-up, together with oiling and greasing every 500 miles, will add months and years to the life of your car and mean more economical and pleasurable motoring every mile you drive.

BIBLE THOUGHT
ENCOURAGEMENT - strengthen ye the weak hands and confirm the feeble knees.
Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not; behold your God will come and save you.—Isa. 35:3 and 4.
PRAYER Be Thou our strength, Lord, that we may lead

MORE AND BETTER HOSPITALS

Funds have been provided in Cleveland for the erection of a mammoth building, eight stories in height, in which Lakeside hospital will be housed in the future.
With it will be another large building, a pavilion for the accommodation of private patients who want special quarters, outside the main hospital building.
They will cost about $6,000,000.
And Cleveland will vote this fall on a bond proposition to spend $2,500,000 in enlarging the city hospital, the tuberculosis sanitarium and the hospital at the boys' farm.

The growth of hospitals in Cleveland is an illustration of the national development of institutions to care for the victims of sickness and accident. From public and private sources funds are being provided, millions being poured out that medical attention to humanity may be supplied, and the afflicted be given the largest possible opportunity for quick recovery.
It is an inspiring movement, one the public may well applaud and support. There is wisdom and the fine spirit of humanity in evidence when those with great wealth hand over such generous sums that humanity may be served better. Proper care of the afflicted is important. Those who help provide it are serving well their day and generation.—Ohio State Journal.

OUR DEBT TO INVENTORS

The honor paid to Thomas A.
Edison, on the recent 49th anniversary of his invention of the incandescent lamp, is a reminder of what we all owe to a certain type of men who have devoted their lives to applying the truths of science in a practical way.
There is something very noble and admirable in the toil of the inventor, who so frequently devotes his life to producing practical devices for the service of humanity, without reaping much money reward out of it himself.
Mr. Edison has attained fame and business success by his wonderful gift, but there are plenty of men who have created appliances of very high value who got little but the satisfaction of discovery out of their triumphs.
Such men are too much overlooked in the distribution of our honors.

TRAINING FOR MARRIAGE

A commission of the Episcopal church which has been studying marriage and divorce problems, reported to the bishops of that church that clergymen should make training for marriage an important feature of their work, also schools and colleges should offer more instruction on the subject of marriage.

People are trained for all kinds of occupations, but when it comes to marriage, young people blunder into this relation without any special preparation, and hence many of them soon blunder out of it. People enter this relation with a determination to have their own way, and we all know what happens when the irresistible force meets the immovable body. While such training is difficult, some one should inform candidates for marriage that they must expect to show an affectionate and conciliatory temper.

TYPES OF VOTERS

First, there is the prejudice vote. These people have fixed and unreasonable antipathies, and vote to spite some individual or class of people.

There is the selfish vote. Sometimes it seems as if the majority of the American people belong in that element. They vote for the candidate or party which they think will do the most for their own self interests, regardless what effect that has on the whole country.
The intelligent vote-er, and think, such alike, but

vote, finest of all. These are people who have very high ideals for state and country, and who will vote for any cause that seems likely to do justice to all elements.
The selfish and prejudiced voters injure their own interests by short sighted policies, while the conscience and intelligent vote promotes prosperity as well as justice.

A Dialogue

FOR CHRIST OR THE DEVIL or, a Compassionate Call to Sinners.

To leave the Service of the Devil,
and become obedient Members of Faithful Subjects, of Christ's Kingdom.

In a dialogue between a Minister and some of his Parishioners.

Sincere Convert.—What our Minister has said, I know to be true by my own woful experience;
for while I allowed my self in Drunkness, I could not but condemn my self for it, because I plainly saw that I ruined my family by it, disordered by body, impaired my health and served the Devil.

And so by my profane swearing that I was accustomed to, I found that I only ingratiously dishonored my God, to whom I'm a Debtor for all the delights or blessings I ever enjoyed, and at the same time glorified the Devil, who is the Author of every Affliction, Pain, or Misery that I ever felt, and who seeks (like the crafty spider) to entangle me in the Nets of Sin, in order to devour my soul, and make me a vessel of Shame and Misery to all Eternity.

Lust also and Covetousness ruled me, till by them my Soul was piercd thro' with many sorrows. And thus I was toss'd about, first by one evil spirit and then another, and could find no rest for my Soul, till God open'd my eyes showed me the danger of my Sins, and gave me grace to leave them, and turn to Christ with all my Soul, with all my heart and with all my mind, and with all my Strength.

And now I give the Glory to God, in Christ I find true Peace.
Min.—You now perceive that the Pleasure of indulging your Lusts, and all the good Things of this World, though put together, are as nothing, if compar'd to the Peace of God, and the comfortable fellowship of his Spirit, that now dwell in you.

Sincere Convert.—I really do;
And now plainly see, that all the Sins mention'd by the Apostle,
Gal. v. 19, 29, in your Catalogue,
viz. Adultery, Fornication, etc.
must end in Death, unless they be subdued and mortified, because they arise in Hell, and are so many Chains to the those to Hell that are rul'd by them.

And therefore the Guilt of them must be purg'd out, and the Soul
lost'd from them by Repentance, otherwise it can't be saved; i. e. it can't go to Heaven, the Kingdom of Holiness, while it is bound and chain'd to Hell, by the Guilt of any of those Sins about it.

What a sad End then must the Workers of Iniquity, or the servants of the Devil, come to?

Min.—A dreadful End indeed, enough to fill all their Draughts of sensual Pleasure with Gall and Bitterness.

THE GOBLINS'LL GET YOU IF YOU DON'T COME OUT

Broadway Love

by Thomas Edgewood

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR.
WHEN Fenimore-Wilde, famous Broadway actor, dies, his young and pretty daughter, Janet, obtains a job with John Montague, theatrical impresario, while her brother, Frank, an actor, goes South. Janet makes friends with Leonard Quigg, a temperamental musician who loves her, and Dr. David Churchill, when Montague insults her. Janet becomes Dr. Churchill's secretary. He tells her he is in love with her and contemplates divorcing his wife, so Janet gives up her position and goes to live with Chester Quigg, Leonard's artist uncle, and his charming little daughter, Alice. She learns how to placate old Mrs. Quigg, Chester's mother, and generally makes life pleasant for the Quiggs. Her brother, Frank, returns home broke and in debt, and accepts $3,000 from Leonard, secretly. In the meantime Janet is falling in love with Leonard. She goes driving with him in his new car, but they quarrel and he calls her a gold digger. The next morning he sends her a small gold shovel and when he phones she hangs up. Frank admits that Leonard has lent him the money to pay his debts, and introduces Janet to little Cora Niles, his sweetheart. John Montague, who is dying, sends for Janet and asks her forgiveness. He makes her promise she will accept a legacy from him. That night he dies.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXXIV.
JOHN MONTAGUE left nearly nine millions. The university to which he had willed the greater part of the estate immediately paid off the legacies according to directions. Several dependants received sums varying in amount from 10 to 50 thousand; his doctor, an old friend, came into half a million; and there were two other legacies of $200, 100 each to Lucille Rhodes and to Janet Wilde, daughter of my old and valued friend, Fenimore Wilde, as a token of the affection and regard in which I held him."

Janet received her inheritance during the middle of May. She invested it in municipal bonds, thus securing to herself an income of $12,000.

"And very neat, too!" Chester Quigg bellowed his congratulations.
"An even thousand a month! I suppose this is where we lose you?"
Just as the studio is experiencing what it feels like to be run perfectly! It will break Alice's heart, and I shall be like a lost dog—but I can't blame you."

"You're going away?" Alice had entered the room, and had heard her father's last remark. "Oh, Janet! I don't think I could bear it!" She ran to Janet, and encircled her in her arms.

"I wouldn't dream of leaving you," Janet comforted her darling. "Where should I go?
Haven't you given me a home?
Stop that crying! Is this Miss Quigg—the mature Miss Quigg, in tears?"

Alice began to laugh.
"What a relief!" she sighed, hugging Janet. "We have all come to rely on you—is that it?"
"The only difference is—that I don't want any more salary."

Janet said with a glance at Chester.

"I insist on your taking a salary in future," Chester commanded grandly, "and on drawing a check now for what I owe you."

Janet was about to protest when she saw Alice's anxious little face.
Obviously then, she sat down at a desk and filled out a check, which Chester signed with a flourish.
Janet suppressed her smile at the thought that he would be totally oblivious of the fact that she would bama of pneumonia, developing stating their son, Earl, was very ill of spinal meningitis.

SALT CREEK SCHOOL

The school fair given last Fri-evening the free program was well attended, there being not enough room for everyone, which caused some to leave. The presence of so many folks shows us that people are interested in the work of the school and we are well pleased.

WASHINGTON DEFEATED

Friday, Oct. 26, Saltcreek added another scalp to their belt by defeating Washington by a score of 7 to 6. The game started with Hartranft doing the twirling for Saltcreek with Allen behind the bat. In the first inning Washington crossed the plate for one score when Allen overthrew their base. Saltcreek scored three times in the first due to some good hitting and base stealing.
The outstanding players of the game were Hedges of Saltcreek, who knocked a home run and Catcher Allen of Saltcreek who caught three men in succession trying to steal to second base.

Chilcote, Allen and Hartranft ended their high school career as baseball players. It was the last game of the season and the last game for them. They showed well in both the ability to play ball and in their good sportsmanship.

Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher, the most beautiful automobile of the day.

Never before in the history of motor car manufacture have the motorists of America welcomed any new automobile as they are welcoming the Silver Anniversary Buick with new Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher!

Sweeping into the market at a time when motor car lines were practically standardized—when imitation was destroying individuality—these epic Buick creations introduced an entirely new mode—

A mode of body-symmetry—of size and magnificence—of soft contours instead of straight lines—of embossed side and hood panels involving the most costly steel paneling work employed on any car in the world!

And as the weeks have passed—and the fu-significance of Buick's achievement has become apparent to the public—enthusiast for this car has swelled and grown to unprecedented proportions!
Buick sales records have been broke
Production schedules have been increas-

Her brother, Frank, returns home broke and in debt, and accepts $1,000 from Leonard, secretly. In the meantime Janet is falling in love with Leonard. She goes driving with him in his new car, but they quarrel and he calls her a gold digger. The next morning he sends her a small gold shovel and when he phones she hangs up. Frank admits that Leonard has lent him the money to pay his debts, and introduces Janet to little Cora Niles, his sweetheart. John Montague, who is dying, sends for Janet and asks her forgiveness. He makes her promise she will accept a legacy from him. That night he dies.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXXIV.

JOHN MONTAGUE left nearly nine millions. The university to which he had willed the greater part of the estate immediately paid off the legacies according to directions. Several dependants received sums varying in amount from 10 to 50 thousand; his doctor, an old friend, came into half a million; and there were two other legacies of $200,000 each to Lucille Rhodes and a Janet Wilde, "daughter of my old and valued friend, Fenimore Wilde, as a token of the affection and regard in which I held him."

Janet received her inheritance during the middle of May. She invested it in municipal bonds, thus securing to herself an income of $12,000.

"And very neat, too," Chester Quigg followed his congratulations. "An even thousand a month! I suppose this is where we lose you? Just as the studio is experiencing what it feels like to be run perfectly! It will break Alice's heart, and I shall be like a lost dog—but I can't blame you."

"You're going away?" Alice had entered the room, and had heard her father's last remark. "Oh, Janet! I don't think I could bear it!" She ran to Janet, and encircled her in her arms.

"I wouldn't dream of leaving you," Janet comforted her darling. "Where should I go? Haven't you given me a home? Stop that crying! Is this Miss Quigg—the mature Miss Quigg, in tears?"

Alice began to laugh. "What a relief!" she sighed, hugging Janet. "We have all come to rely on you."

"The only difference is—that I don't want any more salary," Janet said with a glance at Chester.

"I insist on your taking a salary in future," Chester commanded grandly, "and on drawing a check now for what I owe you."

Janet was about to protest when she saw Alice's anxious little face. Obviously then, she sat down at a desk and filled out a check, which Chester signed with a flourish. Janet suppressed her smile at the thought that he would be totally oblivious of the fact that she would not cash it. She decided that in future she would always have her salary paid the same way—Chester should happily sign the check and contentedly believe that he had paid her.

"As regards the Summer," Janet remarked, "Alice ought not to be in New York. Don't you think," she turned to Chester, "that it would be a good idea to take a place in the country? You said you wanted to do some landscapes, and I might find a furnished house with a studio on Long Island, or on the Connecticut shore."

"Oh, let's!" begged Alice, fondling the Critic's ears. "Critic would love it, too!"

"Marvelous! Splendid! Wonderful!" Chester shouted. He was always enthusiastic about anything and everything, and the idea of a Summer in the country appealed enormously to him.

"Then I shall look for a place?" Janet asked. "I'm going to buy a car, anyway, and Alice and I could hunt for something."

The three of them entered joyously into house-hunting plans, when Leonard Quigg entered the studio unannounced. Janet had not seen him since their foolish quarrel about nothing at all, as Leonard, on a sudden whim, had left New York and had been staying with his newly-married friend, the impetuous Emil Webb, from whose door Leonard's generosity had barred poverty so that love should not fly out of the window.

"Oh, how are you, Leonard?" Janet greeted him as though they had not experienced that petty quarrelsome drive.

"I must congratulate you," Leonard said coldly. "All New York has heard of you coming into a couple of million from John Montague."

"It happened to be exactly a tenth of that," Janet answered, hurt at the chill of his attitude. "Still, that's not bad for a rumor."

Chester Quigg decided that he must immediately go and order an outfit of Summer clothes. It would not have been characteristic for Chester not to rush out right away and buy Summer things on credit. "I'll have to go with him," Alice sighed, "or he will come back looking like Astor's pet horse. Daddy's bama of pneumonia, developing and other trinkets were stolen.

Frank L. Martin, janitor of the schools in South Bloomfield, died at his home in that village from the effects of poison which he accidentally took for medicine.

A baby of the rear of the lot of Ashville caught to the ground. The choice in Summer clothes is so very, very colorful."

"Come on, then!" her father shouted at her. "We'll get your things, too! Velvets and furs and everything that girls like for the Summer."

"It would be very suitable—a little Summer dress of velvet and satins!" Alice smiled up at him. "My! How little you know, Daddy!"

They went off, enchanted with each other, to shop, leaving Janet and Leonard alone in the big studio.

There was an awkward silence, broken by Janet.

"How have things been, Leonard?" she asked in a friendly voice. "Oh, all right, thank you," he replied formally. He sat down and lit a cigarette. "Sold another jazz atrocity," he added as though he felt called upon to make conversation. "In fact, my future seems assured. They won't touch my serious music, but they can and do pay me for my sham. It's the old story, of the clown wanting to make his audience weep, and being permitted to make them laugh instead. However," he went on bitterly, "I should worry! I am making money, and money is the only thing that counts."

"Talking of money," Janet put in, looking at him with her direct gaze, "I have been waiting to see you."

"About money?" His voice was very cold.

"Frank let out by accident that he had borrowed that money from you. He told me Slade had given it to him. That was very generous and kind of you, but I want to give you a check for it."

"The thrills of inheritance!" he sneered. "Very mean of me, Janet, but you can't have it—the thrill I mean. That transaction is entirely between your brother and me, and he has paid me back quite a bit. I don't see that you have any right to interfere. Isn't it Frank's and my business?"

"Do you mind telling me," Janet asked with dangerous calm, "exactly why you are being so offensive in your tone?"

"Am I being offensive? I'm so sorry."

"Why?" Janet persisted. "Just because we quarreled the last time we met? Because I told you you were a fool to gamble on the Stock Exchange?"

Impetuously, he dashed across the studio. He sat down at the big piano and started to play a maddening jazz tune.

"This is why!" he almost shouted at Janet. "I wrote it last night—on hearing of John Montague leaving you money. I told you I was a clown—a clown of music—so listen and laugh! Words and music by Leonard Quigg, the great jazz merchant!"

He thumped out the melody, and on coming to the chorus sang noisily:

"She's come into money, and I want to know why!"

"That lady of mine—"

"Wouldn't tell me no lie—"

"But she's come into money, and I want to know why!"

SALT CREEK SCHOOL

The school fair given last Friday was quite a success. In the evening the free program was well attended, there being not enough room for everyone, which caused some to leave. The presence of so many folks shows us that people are interested in the work of the school and we are well pleased.

The junior class has just received the new class rings.

The county health doctor and the nurse were here Tuesday and gave the second serum for the Sheikh test.

On Oct. 30, the agriculture class gave a masquerade party, for the members of the eighth grade and high school, in the auditorium at 7:30 p. m.

WASHINGTON DEFEATED

Friday, Oct. 26, Salt Creek added another scalp to their belt by defeating Washington by a score of 7 to 6. The game started with Hartranft doing the twirling for Salt Creek with Allen behind the bat.

In the first inning Washington crossed the plate for one score when Allen overthrew their base. Salt Creek scored three times in the first due to some good hitting and base stealing. The outstanding players of the game were Hedges of Salt Creek, who knocked a home run and Catcher Allen of Salt Creek who caught three men in succession trying to steal to second base.

Chilcote, Allen and Hartranft ended their high school career as baseball players. It was the last game of the season and the last game for them. They showed well in both the ability to play ball and in their good sportsmanship. They have been on the Salt Creek

The new Buick is the new Style

Men and women on every street--in every city and town--are pronouncing the new BUICK, with Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher, the most beautiful automobile of the day.

Never before in the history of motor car manufacture have the motorists of America welcomed any new automobile as they are welcoming the Silver Anniversary Buick with new Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher!

Sweeping into the market at a time when motor car lines were practically standardized—when imitation was destroying individuality—these epic Buick creations introduced an entirely new mode—

A mode of body-symmetry—of size and magnificence—of soft contours instead of straight lines—of embossed side and hood panels involving the most costly steel paneling work employed on any car in the world!

And as the weeks have passed—and the full significance of Buick's achievement has become apparent to the public—enthusiasm for this car has swelled and grown to unprecedented proportions!

Buick sales records have been broken. Production schedules have been increased again and again! The great Buick plant are working to the limit of their capacity supply the demand.

ANOTHER VICTORY! NEW HEALTH COMES THROUGH KONJOLA

Stomach Trouble And Kidney Pains Are Speedily Ended By This New Medicine.

MRS. MARY GOODING.

New health, relief from pain are in reach of all who suffer. For Konjola is restoring thousands of men and women to the health they had lost, and for which they sought long in vain.

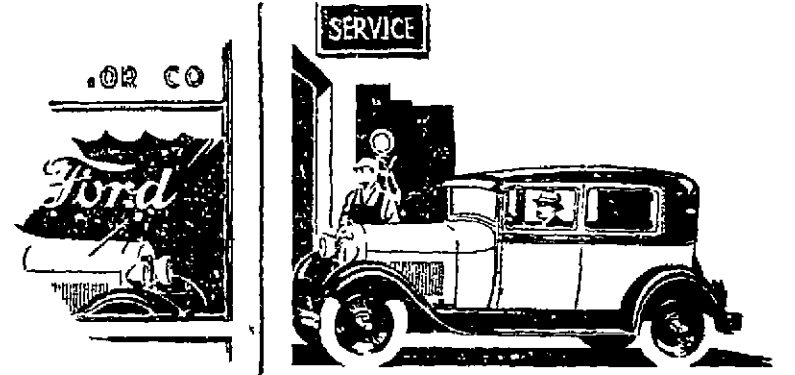

Konjola works quickly, surely permanently, going instantly to the afflicted organs and bringing speedy benefits. Interesting to all who are afflicted is the experience of Mrs. Mary Gooding, Stelton Road, Xenia, Ohio, who says:

"So ill was I with stomach and kidney troubles that at times I wished something would happen to end it all. My stomach was so bad that after every meal gas would almost choke me, and a sour, acid, burning liquid leaped into my throat and mouth. My kidneys caused me intense suffering and great inconvenience at night. I was run down, losing sleep and failing to get proper nutrition. Everything I tried for relief had failed and I turned to Konjola as the last resort. Benefit came with the first bottle, and a full treatment of six bottles has made me well again. Gone are my ailments, and their pains and symptoms. Strength and weight are returning, and life is again a joy, thanks to this wonder-remedy, Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Circleville at Mykranz Pharmacy and by all the leading druggists in every town throughout this entire section.—Adv.

of Columbus and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hatmaker and son Everett, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wagner and son Richard, arrived Thursday from El Reno, Okla., by motor to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maxwell and Mrs. M. H. Bushnell, Mrs. M. H. Bushnell's daughter Morris and Mrs. Mrs. M. H. Bushnell's daughter Morris and Mrs. Mrs. M. H. Bushnell's daughter Morris.

Every purchaser
of a new Ford
is entitled to Free
Inspection Service
for the first 1500 miles

THE modern automobile is a finely built piece of machinery and it will stand a lot of abuse. Considering the work it does, it gives surprisingly little trouble. But there isn't a car made that will not run better and longer if given proper care.

The first few hundred miles are especially important because that is when the mechanism of your car is being broken in. Proper attention during this period will lengthen its life and prevent unnecessary trouble later on.

We are particularly interested in this matter because we believe it is our duty not only to make a good automobile, but to help the owner get the greatest possible use over the longest period of time at a minimum of trouble and expense.

With this in view, the entire Ford dealer organization has been specially trained and equipped to service the new Model A car.

Furthermore, we have instructed every Ford dealer to give the following Free Inspection at 500, 1000 and 1500 miles:

- Check battery
- Check generator charging rate
- Check distributor adjustment
- Check carburetor adjustment
- Check lights
- Check brakes
- Check shock absorber adjustment
- Check tire inflation
- Check steering gear
- Change engine oil
- Lubricate chassis

No charge is made for labor or materials incidental to this service, except, of course, where repairs are necessary through accident, misuse or neglect. The only charge is for new oil.

See your Ford dealer, therefore, and get this Free Inspection of your new car at 500, 1000 and 1500 miles. Find out, too, how little it will cost to have your car given a thorough going-over in regular periods thereafter.

A periodic checking-up, together with oiling and greasing every 500 miles, will add months and years to the life of your car and mean more economical and pleasurable motoring every mile you drive.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

One of the most enthusiastic meetings held by the Rebekah Lodge No. 677 since the building of the new lodge hall was held last Wednesday night. This being the annual inspection Mrs. Lulu Smithson was present and inspected the lodge. She spoke in words of praise and said according to reports the lodge is showing considerable activity. Visitors from Chillicothe were: Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Badger, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Stout, Mrs. Rilla Brown, Miss Cora Murphy, Miss Helen Weislagel, Mrs. Nannie Getchel, Mrs. Cora Maddux. The lodge received high compliments from the visitors on the way in which they presented the work, the committee in charge: Ola Binns, Hattie Ater and Etta Donahue. The service could not have been better, these three ladies being assisted by other ladies of the lodge. And as the members departed for their homes they pronounced the meeting as a great success and all had spent an enjoyable evening.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

HALLOWE'EN FETE IS HONOR EVENT FOR SEN. CHAPPELEAR

Ghosts glided and hobgoblins hobbled with court queens and characters too numerous to write of marched together Tuesday night in the weird spectacle that was the grand march at the Hallowe'en carnival of the Circleville Order of the Eastern Star. More than 150 members joined in the rollicking good time that had been cleverly planned by the committee in charge.

As soon as the guests had all assembled, they found their partners for the promenade which served to show their costumes before the fey, that sat on the sidelines unmasked and who had paid their forfeits for the privilege of enjoying the masqueraders.

After the march, came the un-masking which changed Spanish toreadors, ghosts, skeletons and witches into the familiar members of the Order. Some startling identities were revealed, amid the merriment and fun that only a Hallowe'en masquerader can evoke. Only a few of the guests were positively known before the unmasking.

Mrs. G. L. Schiear, worthy matron, gave a charming speech which welcomed the guests to an evening of frolic and Hallowe'en abandon.

Among those present were three important officers of the district. These were Worthy Grand Matron Mrs. Savella Johnson, of Celina; Grand Secretary of Ohio, Mrs. Bessie F. Boice, of Columbus, and Grand Chaplain, Mrs. Harry Keller, also of Columbus. These officers served as competent judges in the selecting of the prize winners for the prettiest, funniest, and most original costumes.

The prize winners were Miss Marie Hamilton, an old-fashioned lady; Miss Eva Black, a court lady; Mrs. Ed Helwagen, a negro mammy; Mrs. Noah Spangler, a clown; Mrs. Bill Donohoe, an Indian; Mrs. Weagley of Chillicothe, little Red Riding Hood.

Among the guests, in an insignificant and impromptu costume, was another personage of whom the Circleville O. E. S. and all of Circleville are very proud and who unostentatiously was honoring the carnival with his presence. In fact the members of the order had taken this opportunity to honor C. C. Chappellear, who recently in Cleveland was made the Worthy Grand Patron of the Grand Chapter of Ohio. Mr. Chappellear, unaware of the honors about to be paid him, was enjoying the fun as only one of the ordinary guests.

Then Mr. Harry G. Stevenson, Worthy Patron, made a short address to Mr. Chappellear, praising him and spoke of the honor felt by the local chapter in having such an eminent member. Mr. Stevenson presented to Mr. Chappellear $50 in gold as a gift from the chapter in recognition of the great honor that had been bestowed upon him.

In reply Senator Chappellear thanked the officers and friends, and displayed to them a great basket of large, long stemmed yellow chrysanthemums that had been sent to him in Cleveland by the district in which the Circleville chapter is included. These flowers were on the stage as part of the decorations for the carnival.

The officers from out-of-town then each had a few words to say in praise of the famous member of the Circleville organization.

Mrs. G. L. Schiear, worthy matron, said that she had still another honor to bestow on Mr. Chappellear, and on behalf of the chapter, she gave him a life membership in the Circleville Chapter Number 90 of the Order of Eastern Star. The honored member again thanked his friends with speech of appreciation for what had been offered him.

Following the honors that were paid to Mr. Chappellear, the Hallowe'en antics continued in full swing with everyone entering the spirit of the carnival and making the affair one that will be long remembered. The guests were soon ushered into the dining room where contests and games in keeping with the season, were enjoyed, and prizes were awarded to those who excelled in witchcraft.

The decorations in the dining room were elaborate and unusual. Pumpkin faces, bats, witches and owls were used effectively on the tables in the lights and elsewhere in the room. A realistic fortune telling booth occupied one corner of the dining room. The favors on the tables were pumpkin face scarecrows in black and yellow that had been stuck on the end of long springs into pumpkins.

Mrs. E. S. Neuding was the chairman in charge of the entire affair. Miss Marie Hamilton was responsible for the decorations and favors. Mrs. George Bentley assisted with the music, and a great number of the members worked untiringly to make the affair a success in honor of Senator Chappellear.

Several of the masked characters were deserving of praise and received a great deal of comment and praise. Among them were Leslie May as a flapper and C. E. Barnhill as a hobo.

SMALL PARTY ON TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Paul Darling of E. Franklin-st. entertained informally Tuesday afternoon at her home. The guests spent a pleasant afternoon at cards, after which the hostess served delicious refreshments.

MRS. BALDWIN HAS TUESDAY BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. B. R. Bales and Mrs. Alice Hosler were awarded the prizes for having high scores at bridge at the regular meeting of the Tuesday evening bridge club. Mrs. J. W. Baldwin was the gracious hostess at this time, at her home on W. Franklin-st.

MASK PARTY IS GREAT SUCCESS

Ghosts, Indians, Quakers, Darkies, Farmers, Mexicans and nearly every sort of people under the sun froliced together Tuesday evening at the U. B. community house. After the grand march prizes were awarded to Ross Kirkpatrick, having the best adult costume and to Jack Brown and Charlotte Hegele the best children's. There were also some second prizes given and also to those in the guessing contest who guessed the most correctly who the masked ones were.

An interesting program followed led by Willis Camp, vice president of the Intermediate Christian Endeavor.

After some splendid Victrola records, the lights were lowered and Ruth Long told a ghost story. Loren Peters played a violin solo accompanied by Lucile Kirkwood. Mrs. Fannie Greeno, dressed like an old colored mammy gave a very realistic reading, "Mandy's Wedding." The old familiar poem "The Death of the Flowers," was read by Mrs. Agnes Accord, followed by the old song, "Long, Long Ago," sung by Mrs. Ellen Hegele and Mrs. Greeno.

The climax of the evening came when Mrs. Maude Peters, told an exciting breath-taking ghost story with no light only as shed by the weird glow of a single dark red globe. Those who were there will not forget soon, the thrilling tale which she as skillfully brought to a realistic end.

A merry social hour followed, during which delicious refreshments of sandwiches, pickles, homemade cake and coffee were served to the large crowd present. A very enjoyable time was had by all, young and old, who spent the happy evening together.

FOUR GENERATIONS AT DINNER PARTY

Fashions

Hems Have Their Ups and Downs; Are Sometimes Omitted.

By FRANCES PAGET.

NEW YORK Oct. 31.—Stiff fabrics—slinky, filmy fabrics; minaret skirts—flat, paneled skirts; bustle backs—swathed, slim backs, extremely cut lecolletage—rever and scarf trimmed decolletage; shiny-surfaced metal cloths—dull, lusterless crepes, princess, molded bodices—softly bloused bodices; there are just a few fashion points which disclose the approval given ideas that are as diametrically opposed as north and south.

There never has been a season in recent years when there has been such a wealth of ideas presented for evening wear.

The hemless finish on nearly all frocks and suits coming from exclusive houses is the telltale note. This finish is always associated with the skirt cut on circular lines, whether in cloth or silk, and again, whether the garment is a tailored or softly fashioned type.

In cloth skirts, the practice is to finish the very narrow, turned-back edge which serves in lieu of a four or five inch regulation hem with several rows of machine stitching. In frocks of flat, satin or canton crepe, a narrow bias binding is employed, giving practically the same effect of hemlessness.

At a recent fashionable outdoor event, where the dividing line between custom-made and ready-made clothes is conveniently drawn by a fence that encloses members of the smart set within their own club grounds, the difference in hemline finish was quite pronounced.

Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Neuding will visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. O. B. Atwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Kinney, of Philadelphia, were guests Tuesday of Mrs. C. J. Delaplaine, of N. Scioto-st.

County Commissioner Burr Rader, who has been ill at his home in Pickaway-town for several weeks was a little improved Tuesday night.

Earl Holderman from Pueblo, Colo., is visiting his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Newhouse, on E. Main-st.

Mrs. John F. Small returned Tuesday night to her home in Norfolk, Va., after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Bates, of E. Main-st.

TRUCKS BREAK 2 MANHOLE COVERS

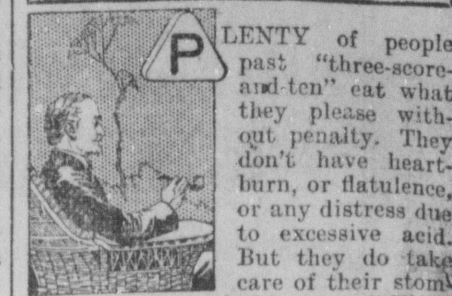

Heavy trucks on N. Court-st have broken two manhole covers in the street in front of the Dr. G. S. Corne property. When the first one broke it was replaced with another which in turn cracked under the heavy loads, according to L. E. Miller, service director.

Miller has ordered an extra heavy cover hoping the trucks can not damage it, and in the meantime a barrel with a lantern on top has been placed in the street to warn persons of the hole.

ACTRESS DIVORCED

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 31.—Claire Windsor, screen actress, was granted a final decree of divorce from Bert Lytell, film player, in superior court yesterday. They were married at Juarez, Mexico, in May, 1925. "I'm through being a one-man woman," the actress said. "Boy friends? Yes, just as long as they are plural."

No Need to Diet at Any Age

PLENTY of people past "three-score-and-ten" eat what they please without penalty. They don't have heartburn, or flatulence, or any distress due to excessive acid. But they do take care of their stomachs.

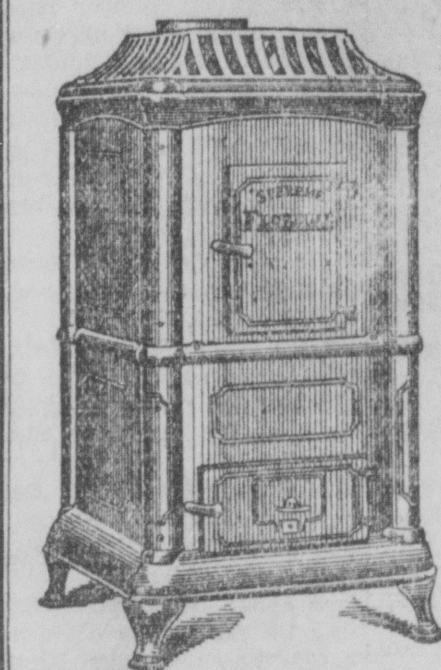

Because it is so quick, so safe and so sure in ending digestive troubles, millions recommend "Pape's Diapesin." "Pape's Diapesin" is unequalled as an indigestion remedy and food corrective, yet it costs only 60 cents a package at all druggists.

If your stomach ever torments you get "Pape's Diapesin" at once and recapture the pleasure of care-free, painless digestion. You may have felt that nothing can help your particular difficulty, but so have others to whom this remedy proved a pleasant surprise.
